Math score below 23

What is it?
• A registration hold placed on new and returning students who have current ACT/SATs but did not score above 23 on Math

Why is it placed?
• To assure students do well in appropriate math courses for their level

How can I take care of it?
• Take WSU’s math Accuplacer OR provide proof of equivalent math course to the Student Success Center

No transfer math/English

What is it?
• A registration hold placed on transfer students who do not show current placement in math and/or English

Why is it placed?
• To assure students have either completed the math and/or English requirements of their programs of study OR do well in the courses they’ll soon need to take

How can I take care of it?
• Take Accuplacer exam(s) OR provide proof of equivalent course to the Student Success Center and Transfer Admissions Office
Needs math/English Accuplacer

What is it?
• A registration hold for students without current placement in math and/or English
• Placed on new students without ACT/SAT scores AND returning students with no placement or expired placement

Why is it placed?
• To assure students do well in their required math and/or English courses

How can I take care of it?
• Take related Accuplacer exams OR provide proof of current course enrollment to the Student Success Center

Dev. math/English progress (2\textsuperscript{nd}, 3\textsuperscript{rd}, etc.)

What is it?
• A registration hold placed on students who do not follow WSU’s Assessment & Placement Policy
• Affects those students who are placed in developmental courses but are not making progress in them as defined by the policy

Why is it placed?
• To assure students complete the foundational courses needed to succeed in their required math and/or English courses (and all other courses requiring these skills)

How can I take care of it?
• Update math and/or English placement if expired by taking appropriate Accuplacer exams
• Complete an online module detailing WSU’s policy and the policy’s requirements
No ACT/SAT scores

What is it?
• A registration hold placed on students without ACT/SAT scores or with scores that have expired (2 years or older)

Why is it placed?
• To assure students start in appropriate math and/or English courses for their level, especially if it’s been a few years since taking these courses

How can I take care of it?
• Take appropriate math and/or English Accuplacer exams or provide proof of current enrollment to the Student Success Center

Owes previous semester

What is it?
• Hold affecting student registration. Students cannot add or drop courses or see course schedule

Why is it placed?
• To assure students pay for owed tuition before registering for additional courses

How can I take care of it?
• Contact WSU’s Cashier’s Office at 801-626-8006 or stop by SC 209 on Ogden Campus or the Bookstore at Davis Campus
