Project LIFE (Literacy Instruction to Further Education) is an individualized literacy tutoring program sponsored by Weber State University’s Center for Poverty & Inequality. The goal of this program is to provide tutoring to help individuals complete their GED, apply for college or prepare for additional schooling in a specific trade area in order to improve their life and career.

Why should you join Project LIFE?

Participants will receive an individualized tutoring program centered around their educational goals. They will learn to improve their reading, writing, study, and computer skills. Those who successfully complete the program can apply for a scholarship up to $500 to use towards tuition, fees, and/or assessments that are required for admission or completion of their program.
