A warranty to any deer daring to enter Bountiful—those are their words!—that we will not tolerate this kind of behavior. Bountiful city officials, in conjunction with the Utah Division of Wildlife Resources, have made it clear that they will "lethally remove nuisance deer" within the city. Twice monthly, until the end of the year, a marksman will be on duty to deal with the problem.

Estimates of deer population in Bountiful vary dramatically. The DWR estimated that there are 800 deer within Bountiful city limits. However, city officials believe there are as many as 3,000 deer in Bountiful.

The city will allow the use of a "dead target shooter" to deal with the problem. I am not "buds" with Mr. Rowley, nor are we bound by the DWR’s estimates. I am not a member of the "good old boys" club and I have only lived in Utah for two and a half years, Weber County for one and a half years. I am not afraid of "deer hunting," nor are we forbid from deer hunting within the Weber County Surveyor’s office; I have only met with them in a professional atmosphere. Now what I am: I am a licensed professional land surveyor in five western states, including Utah. My clientele are not only federal, state, and local government officials, but also owners of many private lands. I am a CCPRR (Chicago Central Pacific Railroad) registered surveyor. I am a CCFL (Civil Service) surveyor. As a CCFL, I am specifically trained in re-establishing section corners and re-establishing section corners.

When vacationing in San Francisco, I was unwilling to wait for the cable car, so I took the bus and found it to be a viable alternative. It is time for the voters of Bountiful to stand up and be counted. Rational thinking must prevail over a poorly timed and ill-conceived plan to tax the citizens of Bountiful through a general obligation bond to fund a new police station. It would only add to the list of misused tax dollars. We would like to know whether a new police station will make us any safer as a community.

Be a safe place to live and the people of Bountiful are a tight-lip group. We care for each other, we look out for our neighbors, we work within the county and Weber County. We care about the same things and we care about the same people. We do not give up easily and we will make sure our voices are heard.
