

How do I reply to a Discussion as a student?

Open Discussions

- Home
- Announcements
- Assignments
- Discussions
- Grades
- Outcomes
- Syllabus
- Modules
- Quizzes
- Collaborations
- Conferences

In Course Navigation, click the Discussions link.

Open Discussion Topic

▼ Pinned Discussions

 Introductions Due Mar 28 at 11:59pm ✓ 3 9

Last post Mar 18, 2014

▼ Discussions Ordered by Recent Activity

Favorite Presidents ✓ 0 2

Last post Mar 19, 2014

Click the title of the Discussion.

Reply to Discussion Topic

 Favorite Presidents 2

Doug Roberts

Who is your favorite president and why?

Search entries or author Unread

To reply to the main discussion, type your reply in the Reply field.

Post your Message

The screenshot shows the HTML Editor interface. At the top, there is a toolbar with various formatting options like bold (B), italic (I), underline (U), text color (A), background color (A), link (I), and list (ul, ol). Below the toolbar is a large text area for writing the message, with a small '1' in a circle at the top left. At the bottom left of the editor is an 'Attach' button with a paperclip icon, and a small '2' in a circle next to it. At the bottom right are 'Cancel' and 'Post Reply' buttons, with a small '3' in a circle above the 'Post Reply' button.

Write your response in the Content Editor [1]. You can add links, photos, equations, and/or media. If your instructor allows, you can also attach files [2]. Once you finish, click the Post Reply button [3].

View Your Reply

The screenshot shows a discussion thread. At the top, there is a user profile for 'Favorite Presidents' by 'Doug Roberts' with a '3' in a blue box. Below the profile is the question 'Who is your favorite president and why?'. There is a search bar, an 'Unread' button, and a 'Subscribed' button. Below this is a 'Reply' input field. The main content is a reply from 'Emily Boone' dated 'Apr 29, 2014'. Her reply text is 'My favorite president is known to have cut down a cherry tree...' and includes a link to 'trees.JPG'. A red border highlights the entire reply post. Below her post is another 'Reply' input field.

Your reply will be posted at the bottom of the discussion reply thread. The border of your post will flash blue indicating it has been newly posted.

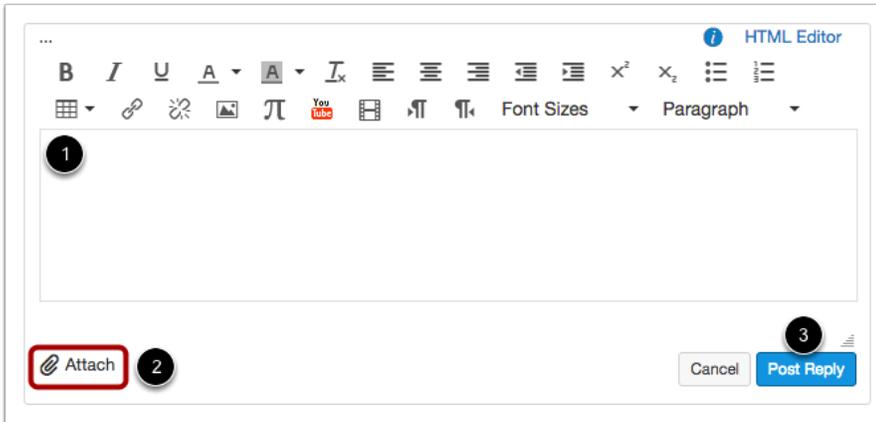

Reply to a Comment in a Discussion

The screenshot shows a discussion thread. It features a comment from 'Emily Boone' dated 'Apr 29, 2014' with the text 'My favorite president is known to have cut down a cherry tree...' and a link to 'trees.JPG'. Below the comment is a 'Reply' input field, which is highlighted with a red border.

In a focused discussion, you can reply to a comment already posted by another student by clicking in the reply field below the post.

View Your Reply

The screenshot shows the HTML Editor interface. At the top right, there is a link to "HTML Editor". Below it is a rich text toolbar with icons for bold (B), italic (I), underline (U), text color (A), background color (A), link (chain), unlink (chain with slash), insert link (chain with plus), insert image (img), insert video (YouTube icon), insert media (film strip), undo (curved arrow), redo (curved arrow), font sizes (dropdown), and paragraph (dropdown). The main text area is empty and has a "1" in a circle in the top left corner. At the bottom left, there is an "Attach" button with a paperclip icon and a "2" in a circle. At the bottom right, there are "Cancel" and "Post Reply" buttons, with a "3" in a circle above the "Post Reply" button.

Write your response in the Content Editor [1]. You can add links, photos, equations, and/or media. If your instructor allows, you can also attach files [2]. Once you finish, click the Post Reply button [3].

View Your Reply

The screenshot shows a discussion thread with two replies. The first reply is from Emily Boone, dated Apr 29, 2014, with the text "My favorite president is known to have cut down a cherry tree..." and a link to "trees.JPG". The second reply is from Max Johnson, dated 4:38pm, with the text "George Washington!". Below the replies is a "Reply" button with a left-pointing arrow.

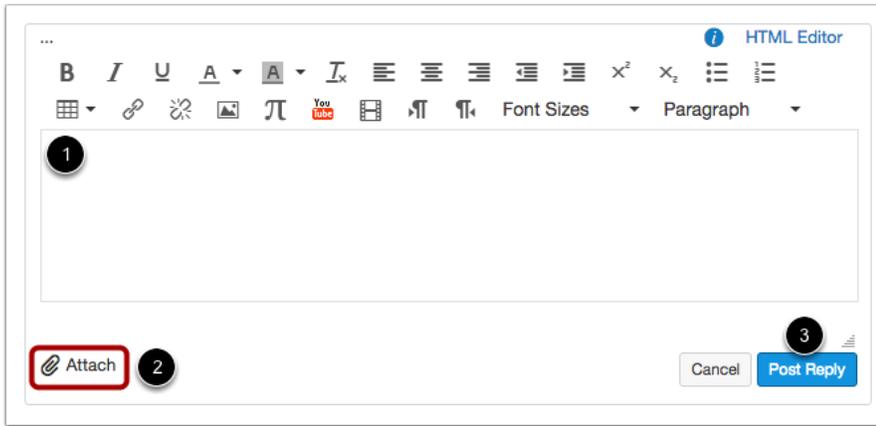

Your reply will be posted at the bottom of the discussion reply thread. The border of your post will flash blue indicating it has been newly posted.

Reply to a Comment in a Threaded Discussion

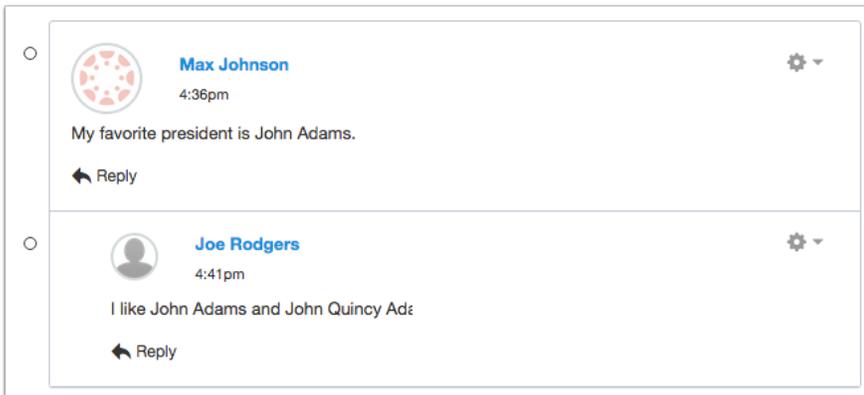

The screenshot shows a discussion thread with a reply from Max Johnson, dated 4:36pm, with the text "My favorite president is John Adams.". Below the reply is a "Reply" button with a left-pointing arrow, which is highlighted with a red arrow pointing to it.

In a threaded discussion, you can reply to a comment already posted by another student. Locate the post you want to reply to and click the reply icon.

Write your response in the Content Editor [1]. You can add links, photos, equations, and/or media. If your instructor allows, you can also attach files [2]. Once you finish, click the Post Reply button [3].

View Your Reply

Your reply will be posted at the bottom of the discussion reply thread. The border of your post will flash blue indicating it has been newly posted.