

Want to take your education to a new level? Interested in applying for graduate school or increasing your job marketability?

Consider Departmental Honors in Psychology

To earn Departmental Honors in Psychology, a student must:

- Maintain a departmental GPA of 3.7, and an overall GPA of 3.25
- Successfully complete 6 hours of PSY 4910 Capstone Research Project*
- Complete 3 hours of General Honors course/s

*See the course catalog for a complete description of the PSY 4910 course (which includes directed readings, research, a written report, and an oral presentation).

Students who have not completed their General Education requirements are encouraged to take Honors General Education classes.

How to apply for Departmental Honors in Psychology:

Students must apply to be awarded departmental honors and be cleared by both the Psychology Department and the Honors Program.

- Complete the application for Departmental Honors and submit it to the Honors Program (2nd floor of the Stewart Library).
- Meet the requirements listed above.
- Visit with Marilyn Diamond, the Honors advisor, to be cleared for graduation with Departmental Honors. (626-7336) mdiamond@weber.edu

Students earning departmental honors will be recognized in the following ways:

1. “Department of Psychology Honors” designation on the transcript.
2. “Department of Psychology Honors” printed on the degree diploma.
3. Personalized letter signed by the President of Weber State University and the Honors Director.
4. Invitations to Honors educational and social events.
5. Invitation to Honors Nye-Cortez banquet at the end of the academic year.

Also, consider how completing Departmental Honors might be reflected in your recommendation letters when applying for a job or for graduate school (M.A., Ph.D., M.D., J.D., etc.).
